WORK TOWARDS YOUR FIRE TECHNOLOGY AND ADMINISTRATION DEGREE ON YOUR TERMS

A new and exciting opportunity is arriving in spring semester of 2009! Lake Superior College's Emergency Response Training Center is offering a number of its classes through MNSCU's distance to learn (D2L) system. This program is designed for fire fighters who are employed full time and would like to pursue their Associate of Applied Science Degree in Fire Technology and Administration. Classes will be offered during fall, spring, and summer semesters on a rotating basis.

Take classes at the station, home, the lake, or on vacation. Wherever you find the internet, your education is waiting for you. You may also receive college credit for your current certifications, formal training, and work related experience. Whether it is for promotion or to expand your horizons, this is the path for any Fire Service professional. Jumpstart your future and register for classes today.
