Thank you Veterans!

Lake Superior College is proud to be a military-friendly college. Recent alum Corporal Amayah Littlewolf, of the U.S. Army National Guard, is featured in this video filmed on LSC's campus.

LSC Campus Honors Veterans

Lake Superior College acknowledged Veterans Day last Wednesday, November 6 as the campus was closed on Monday for the official holiday. The program was led by Minnesota Department of Veteran's Affairs representative David Martin who provided a history of Veterans Day and a Missing Military Personnel Table Recitation. His son, Solomon Martin, who is in the Twin Ports Naval Cadets Corp, also participated. Music included a performance by the Lake Superior College Choir under the direction of Calland Metts.

TRIO SSS Celebrates First Generation Day

Students, staff and faculty celebrated national First Generation Day last Thursday with cake, coffee and a group photo. First Generation Day celebrates students and employees whose parents did not complete a four-year degree. Nearly 55% of LSC students are first generation students.

Students Train to Identify and Reduce Invasive Species on LSC Campus

Nearly sixty LSC students enrolled in Environmental Science, General Biology and Issues in Global Ecology courses began a two-part training about invasive species on campus last week when they learned to identify and remove buckthorn by the H Building.

Using LSC's forest as a Living Lab, the students and faculty are working with the Duluth CISMA (Collaborative Invasive Species Management Area) and the City of Duluth's Invaders volunteers. The students tackled buckthorn in the Miller Creek ravine on Wednesday, November 13 for a full field experience.
